

First Trimester Screen

First Screen is an optional test which shows if you are at an increased risk of having a baby with Down syndrome or Trisomy 18. This is done between 10 and 14 weeks of pregnancy, and involves a special sonogram, and a blood test. For more information, please refer to the website [www.genzyme genetics.com](http://www.genzyme genetics.com).